ENTRY-LEVEL AND PROMOTIONAL TESTS

Dear Human Resources Management

RE: HOTEL & RESORT MANAGERMENTS

American Social Services of Uptown, Inc is an independent third party organization, a member of the National College Testing Association (NCTA) and the International Association for Computerized Adaptive Testing (IACAT). We are internet-based testing company that administers exams for our Test Vendors and Developers. Need help to customize your company selection tests? We provide free consultation. Why guess when hiring? Hire the best employee with excellent personality and aptitude to your customers and staff.

Some of our most popular entry and promotional exams include the tests listed below, and we offer more than 1000 tests with unlimited customization. Whether you are a small or big organization, our tests will help you do the best job possible when hiring new employees

We administer proctors and oversee the administration of assessments on-site and mobile to all candidates registered through our office. In addition to administering the assessments, our organization is generally required to inventory testing materials before and after the assessment, take attendance to ensure all candidates are present, distribute and collect test materials, provide instructions to test takers, determine and monitor breaks, keep track of time, maintain a presence in the testing rooms at all time, in addition to security cameras and DVR in the testing rooms, to discourage talking or cheating, and document any irregularities. Assessments may be administered to a large number of candidates in several technical areas at one time and we have 1 proctor for every 25 test takers and a group of 50 test takers will have 2 or 3 proctors.
